FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Dallas, Texas, October 17, 2009 – Full-service immigration law firm of CHAVEZ & VALKO, LLP headquartered in Dallas, TX, is proud to announce that Gary Frost joined its litigation section in the Dallas office as an associate attorney. This latest addition underscores the firm's dedication to a zealous representation of its clients in removal proceedings.

Gary Frost received his Juris Doctor degree from the University of Tulsa in 1995, where he was a member of and a contributor to the Tulsa Law Review. His broad legal experience has included practice in private law firms as well as in-house counsel positions with both - public and private corporations. Mr. Frost's vast trial experience in immigration court and his civil litigation background support brings a wide range of knowledge and experience to the immigration practice at Chavez & Valko.

Chavez & Valko with offices in Dallas and Fort Worth handles all types of cases relating to U.S. immigration and naturalization law in all 50 states in the U.S. and abroad, and visas to other countries. The firm represents individuals and businesses in a broad range of immigration matters including permanent residence or "green cards," work and family visas, citizenship and naturalization, waivers, deportation defense, I-9 employer compliance, and all types of appeals. Among its clients are representatives of steel manufacturing, semiconductor, pipe, software development, and structural engineering industries. Additionally, Chavez & Valko had represented Grammy-nominated artist, MLB and NFL trading card manufacturer, NHRA racer and a mechanic, World Champion athletes and Olympians, and provided counsel to ATP tennis players, LPGA members, and NHL players.
